Barker, Usherettes

Take Circus Places

'As the spirit of the Big Top Flits every heart with glee
Come join us in this happy land
Thrill to the sights you'll see'
. . . So begins Circus 1965 as Nancy Young and her eight usherettes set the stage for an exciting evening of "Cotton Candy and Capering Clowns." Nancy, a dark-haired sophomore from Richmond, has been chosen to preside as "Barker" of the circus midway. In addition to heading the line of usherettes, Nancy, a freshman, has worked with her classmates on their production. Stage skills will not be new to this gal who participated in the 1965 Miss Longwood contest - enthusiasm and charm were qualities of her rendition of "Wouldn't It Be Lovely." Serving on the council of the Wesley Foundation is another of Nancy's important extracurricular activities.

In Nancy's line of usherettes, we see seniors Sally Fulton and Anne Cave, Virginia, and Sally King, Virginia, and The math and English major is a Longwood Players and Student Government member. Last night the Freshman Class decided to have only a half a vote in the upcoming Major-Minor elections.

The reasoning behind this action is that they feel as though they will not have enough time to get to know the candidates since election procedures begin this month instead of in March.

In years to come when we look back on our college days can we rely on our own memories to keep the experiences which we have shared as vivid as they are to us now? Or will it take some written word or visual clue to remind us? The Rotunda, a weekly voice of the students views and activities; the Gyre, a seasonal display of student literary effort; the Virginian, an annual picture of a year gone by, will bring back these days as though they were a part of us once again. Because of the service that these publications have given us during our College days and because of their continuing service in years to come we the staff of the 1966 Virginian dedicate this book to The Longwood College publications and to those who so ably and willingly serve them.

VEA Holds Convention; Professors Participate

By Kay Yeaus

The eighty-first annual convention of the Virginia Educational Association opened last week in Richmond. The official headquarters for the three-day meeting was the Hotel John Marshal, Fifth and Franklin Streets. The Longwood College faculty has 54 of its members who are also members of the VEA.

Mr. George F. Ethel and Mr. Earl A. Robley were the official Longwood delegates. They each had one vote, but any member of the association was entitled to a voice on the floor.

The first general session began in the Mosque Auditorium. The second session opened the next morning, with the third general session being held Friday night at which time Gov. Albertis S. Harrison, Jr., addressed the convention.

Music for the convention was furnished by the Stuarts Draft High School Band, the Jefferson High School Choir of Richmond, and the James Madison Concert Choir of Vienna. There was opening and closing prayer for the convention at the sessions of the convention at the Mosque.

Wednesday night, Charles Cooke of Chandler Junior High School led the assembly in singing the national anthem. Preceding the national anthem, Governor Harrison, Chairman of the Music Department of Virginia Education, led in singing "O Virginia."

Four members of the Longwood College speech department from Longwood College spoke at the convention. Mrs. Griffin, Chairman of Longwood Department of Home Economics spoke Friday to the VEA Home Economics Teachers Association. Her topic was "Becoming a Professional Woman."

Miss Beatrice Blackwell, member of the Longwood faculty for this year, was the speaker for the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, VEA. She presided on Wednesday night.

Dr. Richard F. Gerlach, chairman of the English Department at Teacher Preparation Day, Thursday night, and the VEA Department of Education.

"Stop Dr. Sprague Friday night at the Colleges Association meeting.

English Scholar Delivers Speech

Dr. Rosemary Sprague, full time English professor at Longwood and author of eight historical novels, lectured recently to the school librarian section of the Virginia Education Association on the topic "Biography: The Other Side of the Coin."

Her next speaking engagement will be November 4 at the Women's Forum where she will lecture on "Literature and the Space Age." Other speakers include Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Dr. Russell Kirk, author of "The Conservative Mind"; and Dr. Ralph T. Overman, chairman of the special training division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

Dr. Sprague is a woman of diversity. She directed and played the lead in the American premier of Paul Claudel's play, "Satin Slipper," at Notre Dame, at South Bend, Ohio, and also gave a piano recital in San Francisco this summer while she was visiting professor of English at the University of San Francisco.

Dr. Sprague also enjoys painting, crewel embroidery, and spelunking. Before joining the Longwood faculty a year ago, she taught for one year at Longwood College.

Schlegel At History Meeting In Pennsylvania

Professor of History and Political Sciences Marvin W. Schlegel recently took a trip to attend a meeting of the American Association for State and Local History. The meeting was held in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

The meeting was special for two reasons: the first, it was the 75th anniversary of the Association; and, secondly, it was the dedication of the new William Penn Memorial Museum. The museum was in the planning stages for some time, so the dedication was the culmination of several year's work. Dr. Schlegel helped build the museum. He was previously a member of the commission and built the museum. He is a founding member of the American Association for State and Local History.

Dates for the meeting were October 13, 14, and 15. Along with discussions were dramatizations were presented on historical problems.

The "Student Forum on Student Government" was held at Longwood College. Policy-Making Dean of Men at the University of North Carolina, gave the keynote address on the best for more student awareness and responsibility in all facets of carrying out the student government. As a means of carrying out this theme, the delegates met in various seminars and workshops to discuss specific topics concerning policy-making. Several by the Longwood delegation were: The Judicial System, Course Evaluations, Student Affecting Grades, Regulations and Conclusions. The main of these discussions was that it is mandatory to have better communications and better between the students, faculty, and student body. Each delegate gained specific and valuable ideas in order to establish procedures in order to improve our present systems.

There will be a bowling party at the Longwood Lanes at 10 o'clock with the Longwood chapter. Jane Lou Whitehead, Lynn Loubell, and Mollie Smith. The executive board is meeting to make plans for the state convention and to make plans for the full planning meeting which will probably meet in November. The meeting will include the state officers and the presidents of each of the following chapters: Virginia Polytechnical Institute, Longwood College, Madison College, Old Hampden Sydney College, Randolph Macon Woman's College, Richmond Professional Institute, and Sodoah College.

My major areas of emphasis would be predominantly in two fields a more enriched academic environment, and more student awareness encompassing all facets of college life include a better relationship between the students and administration.

Areas in which I feel would be more fully carried out are in taking advantage of the sundry opportunities available to us. Specifically these are: meeting schools NSA has to offer; various opportunities would be the exchanges between schools in mutual areas of concern and in Student Government. How ever, Longwood must not lose her identity as an individual institution but take a stand on any issues on which she does not concur.

In my opinion, another initial step toward a more progressive movement at Longwood through a Course Evaluation program. This would afford the opportunity to evaluate the educational program, and to set up courses that would be of the greatest value to both students and faculty. This would develop over a long period of time and would entail utilizing various [illegible] until a level could be [illegible]

the Student Government Association, but we have not exhausted every possible means of reaching the student body. To see what is lacking and what is failing in the Student Government Association, it is important that we have a Student Government Association that represents the student body. It does not seem logical to the authority into a Student Council and Social Regulations. Having two separate groups would relieve some of the pressure felt by individual members at certain times and would give groups more time to make decisions as well as clearer minds for work out the change will not be necessary for several years. SENIOR PERSONALITIES

Each year The Virginian sponsors Senior Personalities. In this contest two senior girls are chosen by the members of their class as the most outstanding personalities. They are selected on the basis of their ability to get along with their classmates, their overall school spirit, and their general congeniality. This year the senior class has chosen Harriet Anderson and Cheryl Scruggs as the 1966 Senior Personalities.

Rubley Report On VEA Tells Of More Support

By Kay Young

Mr. Earl A. From 'Top Rats' to Colleagues

THE COLLEAGUES

The Colleagues comprise a group of Sophomores whose sole purpose is to make the Freshmen's initial contact with college life as warm and pleasant an experience as possible. They sponsor five events for the Freshmen: a sing, a movie, the capping ceremony, a concert, and a banquet. But, best of all, they try to convey to the Freshmen that special spirit of friendliness that is one of the most cherished traditions at Longwood College.

The Colleagues of 1965-'66

NSA Representative Visits LC Campus

By Barbara Melton

For three days during the past week Longwood was visited by Mr Michael Lawler, Student Government Vice-president for the National Student Association. The purpose of Mike's visit was to hold several discussions with members of Longwood Student Government in order to explain fully the organization and the programs connected with the National Student Association.

Mike spoke at an open meeting of the Legislative Board last Wednesday night, February 17, and again to the members of the Judicial Board on Thursday night, February 18. In an effort to acquaint the entire student body with NSA, it is hoped that this article will serve as a relatively comprehensive explanation.

Being a student gives rise to special problems, and several years ago a group of concerned students decided that a national organization of students could do things that no individual student or student government could do alone to alleviate these problems. This was the birth of the National Student Association.

Since the organization was begun, it has grown to include over 350 college and university student governments from all across the nation. What NSA attempts to do is provide a means and communication among its member student governments, as well as provide them with resources and services which no single student government could afford.

In terms of the beliefs of NSA it has consistently supported responsible student action on those issues which have aroused the student community. It has consistently supported academic freedom and the freedom of the student from unreasonable intellectual and social control by his college.

As far as the organization of NSA is concerned, member student governments are entitled to send delegates to the annual National Student Congress held each August in the midwest. These delegates participate in seminars, committees, and finally in the legislative plenaries which consider resolutions affecting the Association's program and policy for the year to come.

It was previously mentioned that the National Student Association provides a number of services in order to benefit member student governments with their problems. One of the accomplishments of NSA is its student discount program. Using an identification card, students can travel abroad and receive tremendous discounts in hotels, etc. NSA provides an educational travel service which plans student tours at excellent discount rates.

Among these benefits, NSA works with member student governments in holding conferences and seminars concerning problems in the areas of Educational Affairs, International Affairs, National Affairs, Civic Rights programs, Cultural Affairs, and other areas of discussion and debate.

Perhaps the greatest and most profitable service offered by NSA concerns its Student Government Information Service. The Student Government Information Service is a clearing house of information on the problems of student government ...

Mike brought out changes, campus courts, community service programs, cultural programming on campus, dormitory government, drinking regulations, honor systems, leadership training, political awareness programs, publications boards, religious emphasis programs, speaker ban cases, student - administration relations, student - faculty relations, student values, and many more subjects that cannot be included in this article.

All Longwood students should be aware of the existence of such an association as NSA and should consider how it could be beneficial to the educational experience of us as students of this college. NSA is being considered and discussed by the members of our Legislative and Judicial Boards as well as by members of the Administration. Further developments in this possibility will be related in a later article.

Two prints on exhibit which are very interesting are "The 14th Street Meat Market," rather unusual, by Antonio Frasconi, and "The Little 500," with interesting coloring in shades of brown, by Seong Moy.

The exhibit is a rental exhibit for the benefit of art students and other interested persons. It has done much to stimulate student and faculty interest in art and is an excellent complementary exhibit to the exhibit now presented in the Exhibit Room of the library.

CAMPUS GROUPS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Students Choose Hall To Reign At May Day

by Keri Byrd

Helena Hall, a senior from Alexandria, Virginia, will reign as May Queen this year. The Maid of Honor is Marlene Armour, a Senior from Hampton, Virginia.

The May Court consists of representatives from all of the classes. The Seniors are: Judy Cundiff from Roanoke, Virginia; Connie Perkins from Norfolk, Virginia; Mary Kay Richeson from Germany; and Jane Brown from Alexandria, Virginia. Representing the Junior Class are: Ann Chaiken from Portsmouth, Virginia; and Betty Jo Farmer from Richmond, Virginia.

The only Freshman on the Court this year is Kathy Mapp from Richmond, Virginia.

This is the fourth year on the Court for Connie Perkins. On the Court in previous years has been Marlene Armour, Helena Hall, Ann Cadgen, Ginny Daughtrey, Betty Jo Farmer, Jane Brown, Ann Chaiken, and Mary Kay Richeson.

The May Queen, Helena Hall, is a physical Education major. She is active in intramurals. Helena's future plans are to get married and to teach in Alexandria.

Marlene Armour, the Maid of Honor, is a Business Education major. Marlene is Vice-President of Delta Zeta sorority, Secretary of the Senior Class, and a member of Phi Beta Lambda, and a member of the Student Education Association. Marlene plans to teach in Hampton, Virginia, next year.

In a campus-wide election held just before Christmas vacation, Mildred Gwaltney, a history major, was elected to serve as Senior English and Dramatic Chairman for May Day. Fanny Cox, a Senior Business Education major, was elected as business manager.

Plans are now in the works as to the general theme of the program and the program will be performed. No dates have been selected, however, will be announced as the students inform us of their interest to the committee.

Registration Day Marks Beginning Of New Semester

Once again the end of the semester is rolling around and all of us are dreading the thought of another confusing registration day. The spring semester will be held in the Lancaster Library on January 31 and February 1, as opposed to the old registration period which was held in the Old Gym.

Freshmen and seniors will register first on Monday, January 31, and the sophomores and juniors will register on Tuesday, February 1. Freshmen and juniors will register to the morning of their respective days, and the seniors and sophomores will register in the afternoon.

Classes will begin again on Wednesday morning. Here's hoping that the new semester will be a very more hope than the last. At least we will all have the spring to look forward to!

Ten-Day Period Promotes Quiet For Studying

House Council has announced that the ten-day period, a period during which quiet is to be observed 24 hours a day, will begin on Wednesday, January 12.

Only House Council members can give a call-down for excessive noise during the ten-day period, and a call-down for this reason will result in one week's campus.

NSA Representative Visits LC Campus

By Barbara Mellon

For three days during the past week, Longwood was visited by Mr Michael Lawler, Student Government Vice-president for the National Student Association. The purpose of Mike's visit was to hold several discussions with members of Longwood Student Government in order to explain fully the organization and the programs connected with the National Student Association.

Mike spoke at an open meeting of the Legislative Board last Wednesday night, February 17, and again to the members of the Judicial Board on Thursday night, February 18. In an effort to acquaint the entire student body with NSA, it is hoped that this article will serve as a rather comprehensive explanation.

Being a student gives rise to several problems and concerns. Years ago a group of concerned students decided that a national organization of students could do things that no individual student or student government could do alone. This was the birth of the National Student Association.

Since the organization was begun, it has grown to include over 500 colleges and university student governments. What NSA attempts to do is provide means for the nation's student governments to communicate and exchange information, as well as provide services which represent student government could afford.

In terms of the beliefs of NSA, it has consistently supported responsible student action on those issues which have aroused the student community. It has consistently supported academic freedom and the freedom of the student from unreasonable intellectual and social control by his college.

As far as the organization of NSA is concerned, member colleges are entitled to send delegates to the annual National Congress held in August in the midwest. These delegates participate in seminars, committees and final, which consider resolutions affecting the Association's program and policy for the year to come.

It was previously mentioned that the National Student Association provides a number of services in order to benefit member states and their student governments with accomplishments of NSA is its student discount program. Using an identification card, a student can receive travel thread and receive tremendous discounts in hotels, etc. NSA provides an educational travel service which plans student tours at excellent discounts.

Among these benefits, NSA works with member student governments in holding conferences and seminars concerning problems in the areas of Educational Affairs, International Affairs, Political Affairs, Civil Rights program, Cultural Affairs, and other areas of discussion and development.

All Longwood students should be aware of the existence of such an association as NSA and should consider how it could be beneficial to the educational experience of us as students of this college and discussed by the members of our Legislative and Judicial Boards as well as by members of the Administration. Further developments in this possibility will be related in a later article.

Currently on exhibit in the West Wing, second floor, is a collection of varied and interesting prints, done by prize-winning professional artists. It will be here throughout the month of February.

The exhibit is from the Pratt Graphic Art Center, in New York, and was gathered by the Pratt Graphic Art Center. All are from collections on exhibition throughout the United States.

Two prints on exhibit which are very interesting are "The 14th Street Meat Market," rather unusual, by 500 with interesting coloring in shades of brown, by Boone Mor.

The exhibit is a rental exhibit for the benefit of art students of Longwood and other interested persons. It has done much to stimulate student and faculty interest in art. It has excellent complement to the exhibit now in the Exhibit Room.
